Director's Note

Thank you everyone so much for coming! It means a lot for all of you to take the time out of your busy lives to come see something this cast has worked so hard on. I believe that the day you plant the seed is not the day you eat the fruit, and this program is the epitome of that! It is so important for these kids to develop the skills they need early-on so that they can be successful. It has been so inspiring to watch these kids discover their love for theatre the same way I did when I was the same age as them. This has been a delightful first time directing a show, and this cast was perfect to teach me everything I needed to learn. Senior year can be scary, and I have no idea what life will bring, but I surely hope I will continue to be able to work with these young minds as we grow and achieve together. Hopefully I have whipped them into shape so that they can go for whatever role, position, or dream they may have! Thank you for coming out tonight to see 101 Dalmatians Kids!
