A note from our Executive Director

Hi there,

We are so happy to welcome you to the historic Apollo Civic Theatre!

Over the past two years as the Executive Director, I have had the incredible privilege of watching our theatre grow in ways both large and small. Our stage has welcomed new performers, our youth programs have expanded, community partnerships have strengthened, and more people than ever have discovered that there is a place for them at the Apollo.

As we begin our exciting 2026-2027 season, we are looking toward the future with tremendous energy and optimism. This season will bring bold productions, beloved stories, new opportunities for performers, and countless moments of creativity, laughter, connection, and joy.

At the Apollo, we believe the arts should be accessible to everyone. We remain committed to creating a safe, welcoming, and inclusive environment where people of all ages and backgrounds can express themselves, work together, and experience the transformative power of live theatre.

Our young people continue to be at the heart of our vision. Through workshops, mentorships, technical training, and full-scale productions, we are helping the next generation build confidence, discover their voices, develop lifelong skills, and experience the magic of bringing a story to life.

We are also continuing the important work of preserving and improving our beautiful 1913 theatre. As we honor the Apollo's remarkable history, we are building a stronger, more accessible, and more sustainable home for the arts. One that will continue serving our community for generations to come.

None of this happens alone. Every audience member, performer, volunteer, educator, donor, sponsor, and community partner plays a role in the Apollo's story. Your presence, encouragement, and support help keep our stage alive and our future bright.

We invite you to experience everything our 2026-2027 season has to offer. Attend a performance, audition for a show, volunteer behind the scenes, enroll a young artist in one of our programs, or simply share the Apollo with someone who has not yet discovered us.

I would love to hear your thoughts and explore new ways we can work together. Please feel free to contact me directly at aubrey@apollocivictheatre.org.

Thank you for being here and for believing in the future of the Apollo Civic Theatre. Together, we are ensuring that this beautiful theatre remains a beacon of creativity, inspiration, inclusivity, and joy for all.

I hope our paths cross again soon,

Aubrey M. Ervin

Megan Baldwin
Youth Program Director

Megan's involvement with Apollo Youth Theatre began in the spring of 2022 when her daughter took the stage in her first production, Moana Jr. What started as a supportive theatre parent quickly grew into a deeper role within the program. Megan has contributed in many ways over the years. In the spring of 2024, she stepped in to produce and coordinate Finding Nemo Jr. and Winnie the Pooh KIDS, and now proudly serves as the Youth Program Director. Megan is passionate about creating a welcoming environment where young performers can grow in confidence, creativity, and community. She is deeply grateful to the parents and volunteers who help make these productions possible.

Lilly Tillman

Lilly's journey with the Apollo began in early 2023 when her daughter took the stage in her very first production. Since then, Lilly has contributed behind the scenes with supervision, costumes, and set construction. She is honored to be part of the production team for the homeschooling production. Lilly is thankful to all the parents and volunteers for their support, and to the cast—she is incredibly proud of your hard work and dedication!

Director's Note

Between the Lines JR. reminds us of the power of imagination, the importance of finding our own voices, and the magic that can happen when we look beyond the pages of a book. Its message encourages us to embrace who we are, celebrate our individuality, and discover that every story can inspire us in unexpected ways.

What an incredible ten weeks it has been! One of my favorite parts of directing youth theatre is watching a group of students come together at the start of a program and grow into a cast that works together, encourages one another, and creates something truly magical. Over these past ten weeks, we have shared plenty of laughter, learned new skills, and made memories. From learning lines and choreography to developing characters and finding the confidence to step into the spotlight, each student has brought their own personality, creativity, and special talents to this production. Watching their confidence grow and seeing them discover what they are capable of has been one of the most rewarding parts of this journey. To my cast: Remember that your voice matters, your story is important, and there is no limit to what you can accomplish when you believe in yourself.

Thank you to all the amazing parents for your unwavering time, support, and dedication to your children and this program. It does not go unnoticed. Thank you to my amazing production team for always bringing my ideas to life. I couldn't do it without each of you. As you enjoy the show, I hope you are reminded that sometimes the most extraordinary stories are the ones we create together.

Thank you for being part of our story.

Now, let's turn the page and enjoy the show!
